About Us

Since 1974, the Ethnic Communities' Council of Victoria (ECCV) has been the peak body for migrant and refugee communities, representing more than 230 member organisations.

Our mission is to advocate for the human rights, freedom, respect, equality and dignity of multicultural communities, and support a socially cohesive and inclusive Victoria.

Why ECCV?

Advocacy & Influence

Shape ECCV's direction through policy committees, community consultations, partnership opportunities, and participation in AGMs and Board elections (for Ordinary Members).

Events & Networking

Enjoy priority access and discounted conference tickets, plus promotion of your work to our 3000-strong network and acknowledgement in our Annual Report.

Training & Member Services

Access tailored training workshops, along with discounted use of the ECCV conference room for your activities.

Who can join?

Organisations with a multicultural focus can join as Ordinary Members; others as Associate Members. We also welcome individual members who support our work. Members are encouraged to engage in ECCV elections, committees and events.
